Contract Adjustment in Event of a Corporate Action

A corporate action event on the underlying stock may result in an adjustment to the contract specifications of the relevant SGX Single Stock Futures contract. The general principle for making such adjustment(s) is to reflect the impact of the corporate action event such that the contract value after the event will be, as far as is practicable, equivalent to the value before the event.

There are basically two main methods of adjustment:

- Adjustment of Contract Multiplier
- Adjustment of Settlement Price to Post Event Price

The types of corporate action events that SGX may adjust for include:

- Special Dividends
- Bonus Issue
- Stock split
- Stock consolidation
- Rights issue

The Exchange will communicate the appropriate adjustment to the SSF Contracts via SGX circular.
